PUBLICATION POLICIES

The right to publish must be requested from the archives, as well as from the holder of the common law property rights. The petitioner must state in specific terms:
   a. The nature of the use.
   b. The name of the intended publisher.
   c. The place of publication.
   d. The projected date for publication.

Publication means inclusion in a book, an article, a doctoral dissertation, or a master’s thesis.

Freedom of access does not include the right of publication. Publication is defined as:
   1. Printing the text verbatim in whole or in such a substantial part as in effect to constitute the whole.
   2. Paraphrasing the text to such an extent as to disclose the essential content of the manuscript.

Responsibilities of the author:

   1. When manuscript material is cited, but not published, the following credit should be given:
      a. Name of Collection
      b. North Carolina Central University Archives, Records and History Center
      c. Durham, NC 27707
   2. When materials are published, the following credit should be given:
      a. Name of Collection
      b. North Carolina Central University Archives, Records and History Center
      c. North Carolina Central University
      d. Durham, NC 27707
      e. Reproduced by permission

As a courtesy, the archives hopes the authors whose research has known heavy dependence upon its manuscript materials will present a copy of the published work to the archives, and that all other authors using its materials will at least notify the archives of their publications.
